

Shareholder FAQ

Q: What is Nautilus, Inc.'s ticker symbol and on what exchange does it trade?

A: Nautilus, Inc. trades on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol "NLS"

Q: What does Nautilus, Inc. ("Nautilus") do?

A: Nautilus is an iconic industry leader with a rich history and reputation for building the best cardio and strength fitness equipment for home and club use. Its portfolio of brands include Bowflex®, Nautilus®, Octane® Fitness, Schwinn®, and Universal®.

Q: Has Nautilus made any recent acquisitions?

A: Nautilus completed the acquisition of Octane Fitness on December 31, 2015.

Q: Where can I get information about Nautilus's products?

A: Visit the Company's website www.nautilusinc.com.

Q: When did Nautilus go public?

A: Nautilus completed its initial public offering in May 1999.

Q: What is Nautilus's fiscal year end?

A: Nautilus's fiscal year ends December 31st.

Q: How can I get a copy of Nautilus's SEC filings?

A: You may view the Company's latest SEC filings electronically on the Investors section of our website at www.nautilusinc.com/investors/sec-filings/

Q: How can I get a history of Nautilus's stock price?

A: You may view stock information on the Investors section of our website at www.nautilusinc.com/investors/stock-information/

Q: How can I contact investor relations?

A: John Mills, ICR, Inc., (646) 277-1254